

D'AGOSTINO MOMENTUM

Designed with the intricate mechanisms of Swiss watches in mind, the Momentum pre-amplifier's display is similar to that found on the matching stereo and mono power amplifiers. But while they display power output in Watts, this needle swings with its rotating bezel to indicate volume level. It's an indulgence. You don't need a display to tell you what your ears are already in rapture over — namely that master audio designer Dan D'Agostino has made what just might be one of the best amplifiers ever.

£32,900 / absolutesounds.com